In the conclusion part you will read why we think Mathias Schils fits perfectly at Cambridge United.

Report guide

We are Freelance Football Scout and we provide independent advice. We use databases, our football knowledge and network to get all the necessary information about players and clubs to find a perfect fit. The databases we use are from the games of FIFA (info from more than 6.000 football experts) and Football Manager (1300 scouts worldwide). We also check statistics and videos from InStat and Wyscout on how the players play in real life. The network we use is contact with the agent and/or player and people around the player. We use our football knowledge to get it all together in a scouting report like this.

Situation Player

Allowed to leave Cambuur Leeuwarden as a free agent. It turned out to be a misfit between club and player. Mathias is a typical Belgium guy: a bit shy and prefers to show his ability with his feet rather than his mouth.

Freelance Football Scout heard about this situation and contacted his agent Jeroen Vermeulen directly. Together we are searching a new club. As written in this report, he would fit better in a hard working environment.

Conclusion

He can be one of the best player at Cambridge United if he gets confidence from the manager, teammates and club. He is ready to play directly as he is match fit, after playing 17 games in last half year at Cambuur Leeuwarden in the Dutch second division.

Profile Club

Cambridge United are the number 19 in League Two (4th division in England) and is searching for hard working, professional, consistent team players who can fit in the team. The managers is Colin Calderwood. He prefers to play 4-2-3-1 or 4-4-2 Diamond and is an ambitious professional who likes to train hard. "The U's" want to add at most 3 players this transferwindow. They already got a goalscorer on loan (Hepburn-Murphy) and got interest in McGugan. The manager already worked with him at Forest. McGugan is an attacking midfielder who can make "mazy runs and emphatic finishes". He haven't played a match since december 2017, so he needs to train himself to get match fit again.

Type Player

Mathias Schils is a real team player, hard working with high stamina and incredible determination. He is really consistent in his play, especially in passing (85%) and got a decent technique.

Database comparison with Cambridge players provides he is as consistent, and hard working as Halliday and got the same level of determination as Ibehre. He got same level of pace and passing as Deegan.

As shown in the video, he can score by long shots and providing assists by quality passing. But he needs to improve his statistics to be as good as McGugan in attack. Especially in the scoring part. We are sure if he can get confidence from the team and manager who allows him to go forward more often, he will get better statistics in goals and assists. It's crucial that he feels confident to show himself more. Databases notes he will be one of the best players at Cambridge, so he will feel confident to show himself more often in front of the goal.

Level of play

InStat Index: Mathias Schils has index of 225 over season 2017/2018.

In comparison: Deegan (212) and McGugan (205) over the same season. Only 6 players at Cambridge got a InStat Index of 120 or higher (18/19).

Football manager-database: 101 is the current ability of Mathias, the best Cambridge United player got 99 current ability.

FIFA database: 62 overall in FIFA 16 (only FIFA stat he got), he got 3 years more experience since FIFA 16 and if he didn't improve himself, even with stat 62, he would be the 3rd best midfielder at Cambridge United.
